Stankevicius MGM Research: Public Relations in Global Business: How to manage and influence investor relations with PR and media in the current economy Aug 10, 2019

by Paulius Stankevicius

Investor relations is a subject which has been seriously taken into consideration by many companies and is an important matter nowadays. Considering that the company's survival depends on capital, managing investors the right way is management's obligation to the company, and it's stakeholders, in order to keep the business in continuous growth and profitability.

Public relations, on the other hand, is a subject of people. Consider that people and their relationships build businesses, this research will examine the in-depth correlation between public relations and investor relations. Managing people and communicating with them is the big picture of the company's activities, but what kind of layers are behind those activities is what this research tries to uncover.

Stankevicius MGM: Keeping brand competitive through PR and advertising in bearish markets

Keeping a strong public image through public relations

PR is most likely the number one element every company should consider when dealing in crisis markets. Regardless of the company's situation, PR can make things look better with less panic, giving more safety aspects to customers and investors. One of the most natural tricks that companies use in global crisis situations is sharing supportive thoughts through the media and discussing potential outcomes of the crisis through a professional business perspective. Even if your company is falling short, by going out, and facing the issues in public makes your brand look strong. Addressing market problems in front of investors and customers only shows that the company is first of all not hiding and not dying, as a matter of fact, it shows that the company is alive and well, and they are fighting the crisis, and they are going public with their statements. The most important task is to keep customers and investors confident about the company, and PR is just a perfect method to achieve that.

How does it work and what the algorithm is focusing on? Stankevicius Quant Financial algorithmic services are designed to provide maximum security to the client, meaning the protection of API keys is high and client account withdrawals are being disabled. Only the client has complete account access with ability to monitor transactions and trades within the account. The algorithm has best compatibility with Binance and FTX exchanges, however clients can recommend their preferable exchange trading option for a review and if approved a customized algorithm can be developed just for that particular exchange. Stankevicius Quant Financial algorithm can trade multiple pairs at the same time during bearish and bullish markets. Trading activities are also supervised by professional traders and in case of unexpected errors or defaults human interaction is enabled from the admin side to prevent losses, however that is considered to be the last security protection layer as standard maximum security layer is watched by computer and the algorithm has automatic stop limits on losses. Stankevicius Quant Financial has onboarded clients already with great satisfaction. The company is now looking to take the business more internationally overseas to the US and Asian markets.

We also have an edge in digital asset markets

We not only manage and work with blockchain companies but we also invest ourselves and provide fully automated algorithmic e-trading services on premier exchanges.

Algorithmic e-trading services we provide are secure and safe. The trading is connected with API keys from the client's exchange account. Only the client has access to the account and the funds. The fee structure is only success based and is paid by the client manually only.

The algorithm is advanced and is trading on both bearish and bullish markets.

"Being diverse in business is the most important fundamental and key to survival" - says Paulius Stankevicius.

"In the modern times and competitive markets, being good and playing in one sector is not enough, you need to diversify not just your money but also your time into different industries. I learned that in 2014 and 2015, when I was still in the university working on different startups. Of course, the startups were mainly in technology sector but heavily linked with finance, education, entertainment, sports and other subjects. Being flexible between industries is important as every industry has its own special advantage- of let's say making money. At times, some industries may be stuck due to various reasons, that's why being able to flexibly shift to other industries with more profitable business opportunities at your own convenient time is strategic and good choice which requires certain level of abilities, but of course all of this can be learned with time and interest."

"Right now, digital asset markets have received a lot of interest and especially I see a lot of business happening within digital asset banking sector in the next 5-10 years. That is the reason behind my group's interest to incorporate a bank and start profiting our shareholders through new innovative business models".
